PRODUCTIONS

TARTUFFE by Moliere, adapted by Ranjit Bolt

When: Jan 25-27, 31, Feb 1-3 @ 8:00 pm Feb 4 @ 2:30 pm

Where: Seney-Stoval

MAINSTAGE PRODUCTION. In one of the most revered and controversial comedies of all time, a religious huckster infiltrates the home of the gullible Orgon, intent on taking his money, his property, and his wife. Ranjit Bolt's fresh, rapid-fire Americanized adaptation of this classical French masterpiece was first performed to rave reviews by Chicago's Remy Bumppo Theatre in January 2006.

GRACELAND by Ellen Byron

When: Jan 19-21 @ 8:00 pm

Where: Arena Theatre (room 151)

GRACELAND is a comedy with a poignant heart that beats to the rhythm of an Elvis Presley song. The play takes place three days before Elvis's Graceland mansion opens to the public, where we see two of Elvis's super fans engaged in a bitter, yet terribly funny, turf war. Who will be the first inside the mansion? Will it be Bev (Shana Youngblood, MFA Performance), a no-nonsense bulldog of a woman who drove all the way from Delaware? Or will it be Rootie (Jacqueline Carey, MFA Performance), the frail woman-child with a Cover Girl addiction from deep in bayou country? The women try every tactic to best each other, from insults to brute force to tic-tac-toe, but in the end, only one of them will be the first inside the mansion. Along the way, the audience learns a little about hurt and a lot about love and what it means to love a legend.
