- two essays: review #1 on “The Importance of Being Earnest”, review #2 on “Pippin”
- 4-5 quizzes
- participation in class
- assignments such as short presentations or performances in class

Course Description:

This breakout session will give you a better understanding of what is talked about in the lecture. We will repeat what we have learned, and additional material will help you to understand more.

This class is especially made for asking questions and for discussion. So don't be shy to ask, every single question is important!

We will use this class to clarify problems and doubts that might arise from the lecture and thereby gain a deeper insight into the material. Consequently the class topics of each week will be the topics discussed in the lectures.

Attendance:

Role will be taken in this class. Attendance has direct impact on your grade including being dropped from the class. You have three absences, with the fourth we will have to withdraw you from class. So save your allotted absences for emergencies!

Class Participation:

Class participation will be graded based on your attendance, attitude in class, oral participation, punctuality, preparation, commitment to class exercises and quizzes.

Exams:

The exams cover the text readings, the lectures and content of this class. All exams are taken in the master lecture room (midterm #1: Feb, 17, 11-11.50 am; midterm #2: March 31, 11-11.50 am; final: May 10, 12-3 pm)

Essays:

Review #1 is due on March 11th in the breakout session, review #2 on April 26th in the master lecture (before the show closes!!). The use of the MLA format is required for these papers. More information regarding the reviews will be given in class.

University Honor Code and Academic Honest Policy:

UGA Student Honor Code: “I will be academically honest in all of my academic work and will not tolerate academic dishonesty of others”.

Don't cheat, it's not worth it!
